

"Technical Foam Industry and Technologies Exhibition" Foam Eurasia and "Adhesives and Bonding Technologies Exhibition" Adhesive & Bonding Eurasia, which will be held for the first time this year and will be the only one in its field in Turkey, organized by Artkim, which has steered the chemical industry with the exhibitions it has organized for years. It will be held at Istanbul Expo Center on 25-27 November 2021 and aims to bring a new breath to the sector.

The technical foam sector, which is one of the most important inputs of automotive, furniture, construction, mattress, sports, entertainment, packaging, medical production processes, Foam Eurasia, adhesives sector, which has an important place in white goods, electronics, defense, aviation, and energy sectors, Adhesives & Bonding Eurasia 2021 exhibitions are getting ready to showcase their latest technologies.

Foam Eurasia, the most important specialized trade fair in Turkey and MENA region for the producers of technical foam products and technologies, raw materials and auxiliary products and buyers, as well as the entire foam supply chain, Adhesive & Bonding Eurasia, is an exhibition of new technologies, innovative products, R&D activities in the sector. By providing the information transfer, the innovations in production will be exhibited, and most importantly; During the exhibition, it will be an important event where the quality and competitiveness of the sector's products will be brought to the fore in this global platform for professional visitors from domestic and abroad.

Foam Eurasia and Adhesives & Bonding Eurasia, which will provide its participants with the opportunity to introduce new solutions and technologies to their current and potential customers, to increase their production targets, to develop new opportunities, and to establish new commercial networks through face-to-face meetings and demonstrations; offers a unique opportunity for new agreements, new expansions, and new business partnerships.

Industry professionals and visitors, especially from the Turkic Republics, the Balkans, Russia, and CIS countries, as well as the Middle East, Eastern Europe, and North Africa are expected to show great interest in these exhibitions.

The realization of Foam Eurasia and Adhesives & Bonding Eurasia simultaneously with the Polyurethane Industry Exhibition Putech Eurasia, Composites Industry Exhibition Eurasian Composites Show in 2021; promises a more effective exhibition experience as representatives of four important strategic sectors such as polyurethane, composite, adhesive, and technical foam will meet under the same roof.

If you want to be on the first and only platform of the sector in Eurasia, book your place now!

For detailed information: www.foameurasia.com